LORING, THE MAIL DEPREDATOR .- We mentioned yesterday the arrest of Richard Loring, or Rowland, and there was evidence to believe him a thief and a depredator on the mails. He was in court yesterday, but as the offenses were committed in Indiana, he was remanded as a fugitive from justice, until U. S. officers from that State could take measures to secure him .

Additional proof of his villainy has come to light. Yesterday, Pollceman Turner got an intimation that the wife of the prisoner lived in Port Fulton, Iud., just shove this city, and secured a lot of letters, magazines, miscellaneous papers, and more jewelry, which were undoubtedly abstracted from the mails.

In this lot was a letter from A. B. Weems Grapeland, to Mrs. Mary Morse, Louisville, Ky .; two letters from Wayne county, Ky., to M. Hinds, probably to some place in Missouri; an envelope ostmarked Jeffersonville, March 19th, to Gec. W. Schwartz, Merchants' Hotel, New York; several addressed to J. M. IMPORTANT ARREST OF AN ALLEGED BANK DE-AULTER. - Yesterday afternoon, detective officer oseph Keefe, while passing up Broadway, espied Joseph Reete, while passing up Broadway, espied the wife of oue Samuel F. They immediately took him to one of the upper station houses, and he is no doubt this morning on his way to Massachusetts, a requisition having previously been procured from Gov. Since then nothing has been seen of him, which is since December, 1357. Congress during the present week have been far more interesting than at any previous period of the session. The subjects under consideration Cheach Burny.—The 'Old Grove' church situated about thirteen miles from this place, in the Smith's Grove settlement, was destroyed by fire last Monday night. It was supposed by some that it was fired by an incendiary, and by others that it was truck by lightning, as there was a thunder storm that night.—Russellville Herald.

Suppose the Clay, of Kentucky, delivered a splendid speech on our Foreign Relations. It was an able and elaborate effort, and a thorough and masterly exposite bave been unusually important, and the debutes have been every way worthy of the palmiest days orate effort, and a thorough and masterly exposition of the true foreign policy of our country. It is universally spoken of as an effort worthy of Mr. Clay's distinguished reputation. It is not known whether Mr. Clay will consent to again make the race for Congress in the Ashland District. It is very certain that the Democracy will insist on his again being their standardbearer. If he is re-nominated, and of that I have no doubt whatever, I do not see bow he can decline a re-election. It would doubtless he a sacrifice for him to accept the position, and, I have no doubt, his personal feelings and wishes are altogether opposed to it; but, in my opinion, the Democracy arc unwilling that he should retire from the councils of the nation. He made the race in 1857 against tearful odds, and achieved a most brilliant victory; and now that be can he elected without any formidable opposition, it is no more than proper that he should be tendered the track, and bis candidacy earnestly insisted ou. Mr. Toomhs, of Georgia, made a great speech in the Senate on Tuesday, on the Tariff. He is a great man—a profound reasoner, and an eloquent aud forcible speaker. He is one of the first men of the country, and his discussion of the subject of the Tariff was masterly, convincing and unanswerable. His speech should be published by the Democratic papers throughout the country.—Nothing would tend more to the dissemination of sound and practical governmental ideas. Mr. Toombs' style of speaking is off-hand—a kind of abandon, which, in my opinion, is the most effective oratory. His manner is unstudied, yet earnest, flery, impassioned and eloquent. His mind is on pretty much the same order as that of Elijab Hise, of Kentucky, one of the first, if not the very first, intellect in the country. In a word, Mr. Toombs is a speaker in our Western sense—a man whom smaller intellects dread—the first, intellectually, of American Senators.

On Friday, Mr. Benjamin, of Louisiana, discussed at length the question of the acquisition of Cuha. Had the American people beard his speech, there would he no controversy hereafter on the subject. It was an effort which will live when those who listened to it shall bave passed away, and in after years the men who beard it will tell of it with kindling avacant distant when the tell of it with kindling avacant distant was true to the control of the cont and in after years the men who beard it will tell of it with kindling eye and dilated hearts to their children. Did you ever bear Benjamin? He is the impersonation of eloquence. His voice is subvery and musical. Every intonation possesses an indescribable charm and fascination; each word, ay, the minutest particle of a word, stands out with clear, appreciable distinctness.

with clear, appreciable distinctness.

The recollection of that speech can never be erased from memory, but its softened cadences will always call up pleasurable feelings and memories:

"His words had such a melting flow,
And spoke of truth so sweetly well,
They fell like heaven's serencet snow,
And all was brightness where they fell " And all was brightness where they fell "
I wish that everybody could have beard that speech. It was an effort of a man who, as an orator, has not an equal on the continent. His speech will have a great and marked effect on the public miud. Its influence is already beginning to be felt. Some may consider that the excitement in regard to Cuba is epbemcral, and will soon pass away. Outhe contrary, it is the great licing question of the day. Hen may doubt, but, in my opinion, Cuba will be ours before the expiration of Mr. Buchanau's term of office.

One thing is conceded, France must have a war One thing is couceded, France must have a war on hand, or Louis Napoleon will find it no easy matter to retain his power. The question with him would be with what nation could he carry it on with the least danger, and acquire for his country the most glory. For the first year in a war with this country, be could certainly do an immense amount of injury, which could not be successfully retailated. The Frence navy could greatly injure our commerce, which is the first in the world, and we certainly could gain very little hy destroying all the commerce of France, which, compared with ours, is nothing at all. It is thought that the annexation of Cuha will he regarded by France as a sufficient pretext for a garded by France as a sufficient pretext for a war. Should it come, we may suffer reverses for a while, but in the end we will crush out the nation that has the temerity to measure swords with us. It is not destined for Napoleon to conquer America. At the same time, it is but right o say that a war between this country and France is not at all to be desired, and it is earnestly to be hoped that it may be averted. It would be dif-ferent with England. Senator Toombs says of England that she is the enemy of the world, and the world is ber enemy. It is immaterial when the conflict between the world and England shall But whilst I am writing of probable wars and rumors of wars, our glorious confederacy of States is adding to its strength—is expanding, and extending its beneficent protection over the distant territories along the sbores of the Pacific. The American Union now numbers thirty-three sovereign States, stretching from Maine to California, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Oregon is admitted into the great sisterhood of States—another link of union—another assurance of the per-petuity of our republican institutions. The speech of Stephens, of Georgia, in hehalf of Oregou, was and patriotic appeals, and did not feel prouder of bis country, prouder of ber statesmen, more hopeful of her future, and more determined to ury all sectional auimosities, such an one mus Talk about the degeneracy of our public men.— While we have such men as Toombs, and Benjamin, and Stepbens, we need never despair of the Republic. They are a standing refutation of the dcclaration that our legislators are degenerating. The speech of Mr Stephens was received with applause from the House and the galleries, which the Speaker found it impossible to control. Indeed, the vast assemblage could not control themselves, the vast asseminage could not control themselves, hut were completely carried away by the eloquence of the gifted son of Georgia. It is understood that Mr. Stephens will decline a re-election to Congress. This will be a national calamity, and it is earnestly to be boped that he will reconsider

The admission of Oregon was celebrated by the people bere on Saturday night in fine style—music, specches, and a good time generally. Old Buck made a genuine Young America speech; Breckin ridge made a hrief and happy effort; and did Stevenson, of Kentucky, Thayer and Comins, of Mescachusetts and many others. It was did Stevenson, of Kentucky, Tbayer and Comins, of Massachusetts, and many others. It was a glorious time, and most gloriously was it eelehrated. The music of the Marine Band was uncommonly good, and I never heard "Yankee Doodle" played to better advantage. It is fortunate that Oregon comes in under such glorious ausplees. FRIDAY MIDNIGHT, Feb. 11, 1359. To the Press and the Public: I die by my own hand, thus fittingly terminat-ing an existence which to me has heen productive only of disappointment, discord, hlight and pain.

Ah! yes, let me except a few bright hours of love and friendship, which gleam like stars in a canopy of gloom—their reflection in my "yet lucid soul," constituting my only hasis of a bope for the fiture. he future.

If in cutting the cord which hinds me to the

This reflection, I am sure, will suffice with the thinking, the philosophic few. The verdict of the unreasonable and uncharitable, who compose the throng, I do not fear. Let them, if they choose, defame my character, howl like hyenas over my grave. Then let them draw what consolation they can from my dving declaration. olation they can from my dying declaration, hat, if I could return to the earth it would be but o express forgiveness, and, if possible, to bless and righten their winds.

As my religious sentiments bappen to be more generally known than approved, a single word of reference to them at this time may be pardoned. They may he erroneous. Infalihility I never claimed; but they were not adopted without reason. They, therefore, remain unchanged, standing the test of this, the hour of death, as of every other during my life.

"Dark death may frighten children; hell the reach."

"Dark death may frighten children; hell, the wretch Who feels that he deserves it." I leave this world fearing none worse, hoping for a better, but content to follow my destiny where it leads—my only prayer being that it may not reconsign me to earth.

The Journal on Renegade Whigs and Apostat

Know Nothings.
The Louisville Journal of yesterday had a characteristic article upon the Democratic ticket for the spring elections. The editor denounces Judge Joyes as a renegade Whig, and W. A. Cocke and others as apostate Know Nothings .-Such thrusts at these gentleman are worthy of a partizan who, when upon his native Abolition heather, could speak from his heart as follows concerning the annexation of new slave territory to the Union-"The purchase of Texas must be opposed. Every man who does not wish to see the powers of the Northern and Western States depart forever, every man who does not wish to see a dozen new slave States added to the Union, and to hear the eries of additional miltions of wretched negroes going up to meet the Lord in the air, and imprecate vengeance upon our land, will oppose the purchase of Texas with a deep and irresistible determination"and then come to Kentucky and suffer his hand to write pro-slavery articles; who could start out in political life a Whig at the very threshold of Henry Clay, the great founder of the Whig party, but so soon as the grave closed over the immortal sage pronounce his party disbanded, thrn Know Nothing, then claim to be an American, and finally wind up with the title of Opposition; and who, in a word, has been allthings, anything or nothing, to suit times, and places, and eircumstances, during his horrid political eareer.

It is true that Judge Joyes was onec an Old-Line Whlg, and so seemed the editor of the Journal. But when Know Nothingism sprang np and pronounced the Whig party dead, and hosts of the old veterans, seduced from the path of rectitude Journal, went into back allies, sink-holes, and garrets, with dark lantern in hand, to swear allegiance to Sam, hatred to the Pope, and extermination to foreigners, Judge Joyes refused to be found in any such oath-bound company. He went over to the Democracy as the only existing olitical organization that could save the country. For this act the Julge has the approval of s good conscience, while the editor of the Journal is left to reflect upon the miserable remnants of a powerless faction, with the stains of blood and the disgrace of violence outrage, and corruption upon the small page of its infamous history. The fact being admitted, then, that Jugde Joyes and the editor of the Journal were both Whigs, who would not prefer the record of the Judge as a Democrat, to that of the editor as a follower of

As to the charge that W. A. Cocke quit the Know Nothings because he did not get the nomination for sheriff, it is not true. He joined the order-like other honest men, not knowing exactly what they were about-but becoming convinced of its wrong was among the first to withdraw. He left the concern in the suring of 1855 before the nomination was made for Sheriff. He never asked the party for any office within their gift, but refused to accept office at their hands. He has ever treated his Know Nothing personal friends with courtesy, but has been a zealous cooperator with the Democracy ever since he corrected the false step made when he joined the

The same, no doubt, may be said of others upon the ticket pointed out by the Journal as having once been Know Nothings. If Messrs. Osborne and Roberts were ever so unfortunate as to get into the foul concern, the best thing they could do was to get out, and this they did. They did not hold on, like the editor of the Journal, in the midst of the carnage, flame, violence and corruption that ran riot upon election days. They did not remain with a faction which carried elections by killing, beating and terrifying good citizens, and depriving them of the elective franchise either by violence at the ballot-box or by rascality, knavery and corruption in summing up the vote, and giving certificates of election to those who What they could not endure seems to have been agreeable enough to the editor, who now abuses them for quitting such a disgusting concern. What the editor says about Judge Garland is not necessarily connected with the matter under consideration. The Judge is a private citizen, asking no office of the people, but it is due to him to correct the Journal's mis-statement concerning him. He was not a candidate, as stated by the Journal, before the convention which nominated Andrew Monroe. Had he suffered his name to go before that convention, and been defeated by such a man as Monroe, it would have been cause sufficient fer his leaving the party. He would have landers recommend the Holland Bitters so warmly, been justified, under such circumstances, in feeling and doing as Ned Cocke did when John Varnum beat him for the Clerkship of the Common Council. Ned swore right ont that he could not stand a party that would beat him with such an opponent, and declared openly that such a defeat was cause enough for quitting the party. He did quit the party, and we have yet to hear of a ain-

gte sensible man who doubted that Ned Cocke was right.

SEUTTLE or LOCK STITCE—a stitch well adapted for sew how well the people of Louisville like the Democratic ticket that is offered them for their support. If our citizens are not yet weary of the rule of these who, like the editor of the Journal, have hing on to the order, confused the finances of the city, squandered the public money, carried elections by violence, and, failing in this, resorted to frand and corruption to defeat the will of the people, while they have made the property owners groan under terrible taxation, to support a Know Nothing monopoly of the municipal Government-if they are not weary of these things, then all they have to do is to keep the faithful in office. Mr. Guthrie entered the Cabinet of President Pierce as Secretary of the Treasury. On entering upon the discharge of the duties of that arduous and important trust, he found the affairs of the Treasury in a most confused conlition, the revenue laws uninterpreted and unex lained and more than one hundred millions of un settled balances. But to a mau of his keen pene-tration, untiring energy, and scrupulous exact-ness, it was the work of less than two years to settle these balances, interpret the laws and set the whole Treasury Department in perfect order. Mr. Guthrie has filled some of the most responsible and important public positions in the courtry, and has in all instances acquitted himself ie most honorable manner, and no man ha en so universally accorded the meed, well done good and faithful servant.

In 1549 he was sent by a Whig constituency delegate to the State Convention, which assembled in that year to remodel our State Constitu-tion; and although the State was then largely Whig, he was chosen President of that convention, by a majority of seven votes, over his Whicompetitor-Mr. Dixon. This was a compliment to him as a statesman and a patriot that was alike ditable to him and to the convention, and on at will outweigh all the newspaper puffs that If Mr. Guthrie should be the nominee of the Charleston Convention, his name would be a tower of strength to our party, and the death knell of the united forces of Republicans and Know Nothings. Mr. Guthrie can carry New York and l'ennsylvania, and these, with fourteen Southern States, to say nothing of Indiana, Illi-nois, Indiana, New Jersey—all of which, we be-lieve, he would earry—he would be triumphantly elected, and if elected, his administration would be second to none since the days of Madison and efferson—one that would add many more pages lustre to the history of the Republic. It is perhaps not to be hoped that our present Administration will be able, in the short time yet remaining to it, to settle the many perplexing questions growing out of our complicated foreign relations, and such as are not settled by Mr. Bu-chanan, could be submitted to no more reliable statesman than Mr. Guthrie. For these reasons, and many more that we have not time or room now to enumerate, we are for this distinguished son of Kentacky for the Presi-dency in 1860, until the Democracy of the nation shall indicate another.

WILLARD & SON, 9 Congress st., Sole Agents for the United States.

CHARLES FRODSHAM'S WATCHES SIMON WILLARD & SON. No. 9 Congress Street, Boston

fole Agents in the United States of America of CHAS RODSHAM, St Strand, London, would respectfully five notice that, at the distribution of Prizes at the Gres Paris Exhibition, 1835, the GRAND MEDAL OF HONOR

Was awarded to Mr. Frodsham for the perfection of the principle, mechanism, and performance of the Chronometer Watches exhibited by him, and styled his "NEW ARRIVAL OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PR The critical notice accompanying the award, written by a distinguished French Savan, says: "Mr. Frodsham, therefore, has rendered eminent service to science; it is instice that he be rewarded for it, at least with the culc-rium of public praise."

In the new series, Mr. Frodsham has succeeded by a more perfect method of compensation, a more correct adjustment in isocurouism, and in an entirriy new and seculiar construction of the train, in producing watches maffected by changes of temperature, position or mojon, or even violent exercise, and at the same time of provincial accuracy. nrivaled accuracy.
At the London Exhibition of 185i, Mr. Frodsham' ilar merit, and being the flower of the English school.— In recognition of the excellence of the principle of his time keepers, the British Government has awarded Mr. Frodsham the sum of £4,170. Wm. Brown, Eq., a dislinguished engineer of Ohio, writes of these watches: "Finally, from what I have known of Frodsham's Watches, I am strongly impre sed with the idea that they are a decided improvement on all other time-pieces, and were they set in gimbals, and seed with some care, I think their performance would squal that of Mr. Frodsham's celebrated Box Chronome-er, and would answer the same purpose for determining ongitudes."

Bosron, Dec. 1, 1856.

Messrs. Willard & Son—Genta: The gold watch, Chas.
Frodsham, No. 7,166, I purchased of you, has performed withly wenderful accuracy. During the three years I have owned it, it has never been one minute from the true dime, and for one period of nine months its variation was less than two seconds. I never supposed a pocket watch capable of such perfection of time. Fours, truly,

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on scrictly scientific principles after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boshava. Because of its great success in most of the European Statea, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged. American points, knowing instituting any wonderin medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

MORE BAIN-HIGE WATER.-The river vester day was rising moderately fast, with 8 feet 3 inches water on the falls for steamboats, and eleven feet in the canal by the mark. During the day the river had risen only about 5 in ches, with light rains all day, and tremendous rains las night. This will not only make an abundance of water on the falls for all navigable purposes, but strong fears may be entertained of a freshet. Beargrass creek continues at food hight, and we hear that the entire Pond Settlement is over-flowed, and all the forks and branches in the vicinity are overflowed, giving evidence that an immense amount of water has fallen in this

At Pittsburgh yesterday the river was rising very fast, with over 14 feet water in the channel at noon, and rainy weather. BY TELEGRAPH.

XXXVth CONGRSS-SECOND SESSION. Synopsis of Senator Thomson's Speech on the ba Washington, D. C., February 16.—Senate.— Mr. Thomson, of Kentucky, who obtained the loor yesterday, made a speech on the bill. He spoke for about 2 hours, interrupted by con-tinual laughter from the crowd, numbering about two thousand, which thronged the galleries. was wholly against the acquisition of Cuba, and expressed himself astonished that the Senators from Louisiana should favor it. The acquisition would draw off their trade and commerce to a better climate and the port of Havana would cause New Orleans to become like Lexington, Ky., a finished town. Cuba, the youngest child, would be as usual, the pet of the family, and how much would it cost to get her in trim, the Lord only knows. The children of the North who eat oranges and dates, are told they are from the island of Cuba where there is no winter, and their natural instinct is to seek it. Here, he quoted from Childe Harold and the Corsair. Referring to Mr. Hale's remark of yesterday, respecting Catholicism, Mr. Thomson said he did not thin Catholicism as objectionable in itself as it is in the Catholicism as objectionable in itself as it is in the genius of the people who professed it, for he had lived half of his life among American Catholics, and no people are better or more loyal citizens.

Mr. Hale had also suggested to annex Canada.

That proceed is reported for the people there That proposal is monstrous; for the people there are of Anglo-French origin, and be never knew a are of Anglo-French origin, and be never knew a Frenchman yet whose idea of a Republic was not merely to get a chance to vote for an Emperor. In taiking of the British possessions, he would seem to forget that Great Britain is a larger land holder in the North American Continent than we. One of the best poets of Rome had said that empires lumbled to pieces from mere accretion. He feared that would be our fate.—Our people from their Anglo Savan blood hed our people, from their Anglo Saxon blood, had devised the belief that it is right and proper to take from the Spaniard, Mexican or Indian, anything that they want, and that it is not homerde or murder to kill him. We want to Americanize nd Christianize Cuba, do we? It reminded him of two young Kentuckians, who went there on a similar mission; one being a good-looking fellow for an American, got to be overseer for a widow; that Christianized her. The other ran away with an old man's daughter, and within a year the old man was living on a corner of the plantation, and himself in full possession.—

That is the way we Americanize. The Cubans would not stay if we had the island. They have much instinct for that. Place a lion on the rairie and the buffalo will soou vacate, or the iger where deer haunt and the deer would soon scatter. The blue rat peacefully possessed this country until the Norway rats acquired it. Then their instincts told them they had got to leave and they did. It was a shame to pamper the appirit of acquisition, that is dominant in us. A century in the life of the nations is but a year or so with us. This nation is not yet a year old.— Our true policy is to consolidate, secure, build u what we have, not to acquire more. It was said that the possession of Cuba would give an outlet to our spirits. The Pacific Rail-road was argued on a similar plea. He had seen some of these filibusters about Washington. They did nothing, they toiled not, neithdid they spin; yet Solomon, in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these. Imagine these men letting off their spirits in the Rocky Moun-

men letting on their spirits in the Rocky Moun-tains, cracking rocks, or toting about railroad sills. No, sir, it is fallacious, for those who are always talking of their readiness to spill the last drop of their blood are generally willing that any body else should spill theirs first. It seems to him (Mr. Thomson) that the Cuba project is an ele-ment of weakness rather than of strength, and ends to corrupt our peaceful relations with other powers. He did not believe that England or rance want Cuba, but if they do, England wi fight for it, and France will go in for the glory of the thing. The battle of the gods and the Titans; the battle of the fallen angels, as described by the poet, do not equal the grandeur of England's warfare.— Recently, ten thousand of the Persian cavalry, on the plain of Teharan, were charged by a regiment of Scots, led ou by three lieutenants, wh fell, one after another. The British rode them down like ninepins; re-formed, and charged back and again, till in twenty minutes there were not so many left as were left by Leouidis at Thermopylæ. That's the kind of fighting which England does. For a housand years her temple of Janus has never been shut. John Bull is, in fact, a bloody old hruiser, who has been roaming about the world, bombarding, insulting and whipping every-body he has a mind to. If we had Cuba we could not raise such obstructions as would keep hi m out of the Gulf, and for the reason that we have no navy to watch the English and French steam deets, we would be driven out of the water, no because our people are not hrave enough, but be-cause we could not stand such a fight. If we are to hold it, it must be by fortifications, and he would have a committee composed of the offi-cers who went to the Crimea, to whom, be would add Senators Davis and Shields, and ask them to say where the Redans and Malakoffs shall rear their crests to withstand the English fleets.— Yet we continue crying for more, like a pampered child whose stomach is not big enough for his appetite. Mr. Thomson had known a gentleman from Virginia, ere now, rained by owning too much land, and that was sold for taxes, till, when he died, there was barely enough to pay his funeral expenses. Our own country would be big, and the treaty of Guadalups would have been a curse, had it not been for the fortunate turn up of gold in California; but as for Cuba, there is uo godsend there, nor bas it grabitated one inch—not even by passionate attraction of the free labor schools. We should derive no benefit from it. We would pay Spain more than It is worth. Negroes have been cheaper there than in the South. They would rise in price and the Cubans would sell out their possession at high rates. He had also other insuperable objections to the owning too much land, and that was sold for lle had also other insuperable objections to the bill. If it means anything, it means that the money will be drawn by the Spanish Minister of the day, who will make the treaty, and it is thus offering a premium to revolution. Mr. Thomson made some palpable hits at the Democratic party, saying that he multiproted the Democratic party, saying that he understood the iscipline was very strict, and whoever does no halk up to the mark, goes overhoard. Indeed Mr. Thomson said be would take the opportu-uity, before the term ends, to ask the Senator from Illinois if he had not been doing something with Cuba to amuse the South, and make the Keystone State bound to him by bars of iron and hoops of steel. The President might demand a renomination, for he never knew a Scotsman but would hold on till death. It was said that this lick would kill Mr. Buch anan, but Mr. Thomson said he knew something of bygiene, and gave a decided opin ion that he is good for ten years yet, and then may leave it to a son of his—politically, for he has noue otherwise. In conclusion, Mr. Thomson ut terly condemned this rampant spirit that clamors for war. It is a wrong spirit and teaching wrong to the country. If we get into a war with France and England, we shall repent it to the last day cour lives. It would saddle us with debts that would take us as long time to get rid of as the Isra elites were in Egypt, making bricks without straw. Old John Bull might be likeued to a bull-dog Old John Bull might be likeued to a bull-dog-going about the country, hunting np fights— Cæsar, Pompey, Juniper, and Jumper follow in his trail, and when he plus auything, they go in and worry it to death. Out goes a nation from the map of Europe, or, if left on, it is crippied all the rest of its life to pay the expenses of the fight.— Our lower orders have an inveterate hatred against Great Britain, whether just or urjust, he would not say; but to hate a red coat and British-er is an element of our national power. It is true er is an element of our national power. It is true we eat suppers together and read Sbakspeare, but that is no more than two old ladies having a bit of scandal over a cup of tea, and bating each other like the devil. We can back against a bull-dog a terrier that bas the spirit of the seven devils, but we get into this war we must go through with it. We shall suffer in it, however we may come out. Hence, as the powers do not seem to want to fight, there is no need to provoke it. Cuba, however, might do for a platform.

Here Mr. Thomson, addressing himself directly to Mr. Seward, said he would volunteer him a piece of advice that would be useful if he came to he President. As far as the noise and langites permitted our reporter to hear him, he under-stood Mr. Thomson to ironically advise Mr Seward to follow the example of other Presidents, to throw down the ladder when it had placed him in power. There was always some alternative to cast it aside. The advice was, "don't stand on the platform when the cars are in motion." (Reare of lawther) n motion." [Roars of laughter.]
Mr. Thomson finished by adopting an aspersion of Daniel Webster, that God would so shape our ends as to result in good.
Mr. Thomson, after he had proceeded but a short time, was obliged to sit in his chair and deliver his speech, as he was too weak to stand.

Lord Napier chanced to be seated near him, and was evidently much amused. The debate was postponed, and the Senate, after going into executive session, adjourned. DICK MOORE
